COTTON. The cotton day, and, notwithstanding a rainy, unfavorable day, became brighter in proportion as the telegrams arrived. Liverpool deliveries were telegrams arrived. Liverpool deliveries were ble day, became brighter in proportion as the telegrams arrived. Liverpool deliveries were large and the aspect of the market there was good; New York showed improvement. These things stimulated the demand, which became active, and at the close the market was firm with an upward tendency. The New York Bulletin, of Tucschy, reported: "Spots dull; in futures at the opening, under the adverse accounts from abroad, the feeling was pretty heavy and rates went off all around with some little pressure, but subsequently the bidding commenced to show more spirit and was well followed up, infusing a strong tone and resulting in a recovery of nearly or quite all that had been lost. The receipts at the ports were fair, and the southern market advices without anything of a positively stimulating character, and therewas some doubt as to the basis of improvement, but the 'bulls' appeared to move with a good show of confidence, and held the market up very well after once gaining the advantage."

The Champion ran into the Cincinnati Southern railroad bridge Tuesday, crippled herself, and came near killing Captain Joe Shinkle and Captain Crail. There is talk of a big lawsuit for damages.

The Ella Hughes, which has been carrying Cole's circus and menagerie into little rivers below, was sold at Vicksburg, a day or two ago, to Captain Kinsale, who designs placing her in the Quachita river. The Fanchon has been chartered to bring Cole's establishment here, where it will go into winter quarters.

The first news of the breaking of the gorge at Fort Pillow was brought by the Susie Silver, the first boat through, which arrived here about two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Susie Silver, with a barge in tow, floated a big lawsuit for damages.

This has been a remarkable winter. The cold weather and snows have been severe, and they have reached further south during the past thirty days than was ever known be-fore. The following is a correct record of the suspensions of navigation upon our rivers from the severe winter of 1856 up to to-day: In 1856 and 1857 navigation was suspended forty-two days. In 1870 and 1871 navigation was suspended

In 1871 and 1872 navigation was suspended hirty-five days. In 1872 and 1873 navigation was suspended In 1874 and 1875 the river remained closed rty-two days. There was no suspension of navigation during the intermediate years.
